tents of the telegram, and was reticent when questioned by Deputy Sheriff John Frizell.

Roth, on the strength of a telegram signed in Patterson's name, is running the Pattersons' photo shop.

He also is using the couple's 1951 Cadillac; he is signing the company's checks, making up the payroll, and, in general, has taken over the business.

He turned over the Pattersons' house to a local rental agency which in turn rented it to an English couple, Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Philip Belson.

He sold the Pattersons' house trailer, and, at the request of the Belsons, removed an 18-foot fishing boat and two 30 horsepower motors from the Patterson home. The boat was taken to the home of an employee of the photo shop.

Roth also said yesterday he considered the concern of the Pattersons' friends as the actions "of a bunch of busybodies."

tary authorities. He was quoted as saying Carol struggled with him over possession of the weapon when it was discharged.

"All of that I hope will be disposed of quickly," Mrs. Williams said today.

The illegal marriage of Mrs. Williams and Sergeant Brewington was annulled by order of District Judge David Mulcahy on Aug. 9, upon petition of the attorney for the couple.

Attorney Rey, who represents Brewington as well as Mrs. Williams, also expressed hope the Ft. Bliss authorities will set Brewington free soon. Brewington is represented by military counsel, as well as civilian. Private Williams, held simply as a witness, has no need of counsel.

Mrs. Williams is described as without funds sufficient to pay even room rent, but she reportedly has $900 in a Middleton bank, left to her by her father, who is dead. It was left for her under condition that she receive it when she reaches 21, or "for use in an emergency."

She said today her present circumstances certainly create an emergency and that the Middleton bank has been requested to release the money.

Mrs. Williams said her mother lives in Middleton. She did not disclose whether she is in contact with her mother.
