tarium where Patterson, at his wife's urging, was undergoing treatment for an undisclosed ailment.

However, El Paso officers today said they believed the Pattersons have left the sanitarium.

The Pattersons left their home suddenly some time late March or early March 6.

Received Telegram

They had not told any of their close friends of plans to do so. No word of any kind has been received by their friends here.

Members of Patterson's family say they have not heard from him. Sheriff's deputies have searched unsuccessfully in several states and Mexico for the couple.

Roth said he received a telegram from Patterson March 15 in which were instructions for Kirkland to assume management of the photo shop, and for Roth to rent the Patterson home at 3000 Piedmont avenue, sell a house trailer, and otherwise take over the actual running of the business.

However, the telegram was found to have been sent from a pay telephone in Dallas and was merely signed "Pat."

Three Trail Girl And Assault Her

A 15-year-old girl, who had worked her first day away from home, was criminally assaulted last night by three men who were arrested by city detectives early today.

The girl was treated at El Paso General Hospital.

City Detectives Fred Hatfield and Lewis Ramsey traced the two attackers from license plate numbers which the girl memorized.

Girl's Clothing Torn

Detective Hatfield said, "The girl's clothes were torn and she was hysterical when she walked into the police station."

The girl said she got off work at a drug store at 10:30 p. m. She was waiting for a bus when one of the three approached her and asked if she wanted a ride. She refused.

"I got on the bus and rode to my home to find that they had followed me," she said.

"They drove along the curb next to the sidewalk where I was walking after getting off the bus. One of them got out of the car and grabbed me. He twisted my arm and I screamed. He then threatened to break my arm if I did not 'shut up.'"

Says Three Assaulted Her

One man was asleep in the back seat, the girl said. "They drove me to some sandhills near Bordertown Theater. They tore my clothes."

She said each man in the car criminally assaulted her.

The men then drove her back to the spot where they picked her up and let her out of the car.

From there she walked to the police station.

"All three men confessed to the assault.

Admits Attack

"I picked up my buddy and we got drunk on whisky and beer. I got sleepy and told him to drive. I fell asleep in the back seat. Next thing I remember, we were out in the sandhills with a third man I never had seen."

The youth admitted assaulting the girl.

"I felt badly afterwards and told the other two to take her home. "I tried to keep her from crying on the way to her home."

A 22-year-old man who admitted driving the car said he picked up an old friend of his while his other friend was asleep in the back seat.

The third man, who is under a $500 bond pending trial for burglary, confessed to the assault but said he did not remember which one twisted the girl's arm.

after Attorney Otto A. Manning, whose brother, Robert L. Manning, is a Kress Foundation official, informed El Pasoans there was a chance to bring part of the Kress masterpieces to El Paso. Mr. Manning told Chris P. Fox, who suggested that Mr. McKee take the lead. Mr. McKee negotiated four years.

"Mr. McKee has worked tirelessly and modestly to get this collection for El Paso," said Mr. Connors.

Artist-Author Tom Lea, appointed to a committee to help choose the paintings to be brought here, said: "I am delighted over the future of El Paso as an art center. The Kress collection, great as it is, will be only a nucleus."

Will Prepare Plans

The Kress collection will represent five centuries of art from 1300 to 1800, mostly of the Renaissance period. The paintings are chiefly of Italian schools but also will include some Spanish, Dutch and other works of art of the same period.

The Kress Foundation has been acquiring and distributing great paintings for 20 years. More than 500 of these will be housed permanently in the National Gallery of Art in Washington. This collection is being extended to 20 regional galleries including El Paso. Mr. McKee predicted El Paso's would be the most valuable of the Kress collections west of the Mississippi. Architects Carroll and Daebule will prepare plans for the museum additions.

Others Elected

At a museum board meeting before announcement of the Kress offer Former Mayor Dan Ponder was elected president of the museum to succeed Mr. Connors.

Other officers elected: Mr. McKee, first vice president; H. D. Fulwiler, second vice president; Mrs. C. M. Newman, museum director, third vice president; Mrs.

The accident occurred when Mr. Word's car struck a curb while traveling west on Douglas street. He apparently lost control of the car which went over on the wrong side of the road and struck the other car.

Police ticketed Mr. Word for negligent collision.

Three Eligible For Senior Plumbing Job

The Department of Public Inspection has three men eligible to be Senior Plumbing Inspector, Department of Personnel officials said today.

The three — all junior plumbing inspectors — became eligible after taking a Civil Service exam for the senior plumbing post. The highest grade in that exam was made by Henry A. Parker, who was promoted to senior inspector, then fired recently on charges of offering bribes to junior inspectors.

Eligible are Junior Inspectors Donald Naron, Lloyd Overby and Jesse Farrell. Mr. Naron testified in Parker's Civil Service hearing that Parker offered him three money gifts to persuade him to call plumbing contractors before hanging red disapproval tags on faulty plumbing.

Mr. Farrell yesterday was asked to resign as a result on information brought out in the Parker investigation.

Board Checks Airport Plans

4000-foot parallel to Airport road. This runway is used little because north or south winds are not of sufficient frequency to require takeoffs or landings on the north-south runway. Plans for improvement of the airport call for the abandonment of the north-south runway when the improvements are completed.

One of the principal points injected into opposition to the Master Plan is that it failed to give due consideration to requirements of jet airliners, and the problems they will create.

Every major airline has placed orders for jet airliners, and they expect the jet planes to be in regular service as soon as they can be delivered, some by 1959 and perhaps sooner.

Big Noise Ahead
It is a well known fact to the aviation industry that jet airliners will make so much noise for the foreseeable future that residences and business establishments under or near the traffic lane will be subjected to intolerable noise, to say nothing of danger from planes in trouble.

The third new member of the Airport Board, Walter J. Schade, vice president of the Mortgage Investment Co., is on vacation.

The three new members have not met officially with other members of the Airport Board. The next meeting of the Board is scheduled for the middle of September.
