

Mining Men Laud Union, Senate Racket Busting

Charges Attempt To Block Trial

(Continued from Page One) mitted she slept in the front seat of a car and he slept in the back because she was afraid to go home because she had been out riding around with four boys until a late hour.

Necked a Bit
She said the boys took other girls home after a party but asked her to go riding with them. She said she "necked a bit" with one of the boys but repulsed the advances of another.

She said neither Robles, Salcido nor Holguin were in the group and she did not know either of them until the night she says she was attacked.

The defense cross-examined her only briefly on her story of the attacks on Aug. 23. She was only 15 at that time but has since had a birthday.

Identifies Clothes
Yesterday the girl identified a dress, slip and panties she said she was wearing on the night she was attacked. They were introduced in evidence over strenuous objections of the defense. The dress had many buttons missing and the slip was torn and rumpled.

The girl said she was on her way home from work when Robles and a companion approached her at the bus stop near City Hall and asked her to ride home with them. She said she declined and boarded the bus.

The girl testified she got off the bus near her home and started walking when Robles ran up and grabbed her, twisting her arm behind her back and forcing her into the car with the aid of one of the other men.

Forced Her
She said Robles drove the car out onto a desert road, stopped, got out and walked around to the right side of the car. In the meantime, she said the other man forced her down on the seat. She said Robles partially disrobed her and then attacked her.

Robles then held her, she said, while the other boy attacked her. She said they then woke up another youth who was asleep on the back seat, and he attacked her.

All this time, the girl said, she resisted all she could, tearing one youth's shirt, scratching Robles and kicking one of them.

She told the jury Robles attacked her a second time and then the youth who had been asleep took her around behind the car and talked to her.

"He said he was sorry, he

Heineman planned Lawrence, a husky man, to the sidewalk. Dr. McKinley told the court that when he went to his back yard. "All I saw was Heineman's slippers, where he jumped out of them as he hurried the fence."

He said he went on to the capture scene and gave a hand in helping to hold Lawrence. David H. Elliott of 7505 Bellrose drive, in front of whose home the capture was made, said when he went out he saw there was difficulty in holding the stranger, and that he called a neighbor who ran to the scene with a loaded shotgun ending the man's attempt to get away. Police were called to the scene and took charge of Lawrence.

"Mr. Lawrence, what do you have to say?" Judge Woodard asked the defendant, who already had pleaded guilty. "I intended to see a psychiatrist," Lawrence said. "I didn't do it, but I am going to do it. This is not my first offense of this kind."

Bing's Bride Says Her Top Tune Is 'True Love'

"We left Los Angeles so early this morning that I made up with my eyes half closed," she laughed. Mrs. Crosby shaped her lips with a brush while she told of the first visit she and her husband are making to her family in West Columbia, Houston suburb.

"The whole clan will be there," she said. Women crowded the lounge to see the visitor and get her autograph. "I think you're beautiful," one said.

Mrs. Crosby and her husband will visit her parents, then go on to Galveston to attend the Texas Red Cross Statewide conference with Mrs. Crosby's uncle, Edward Stokey.

Did Pattersons Have Much Cash?

Reports earlier this week were to the effect either Mr. or Mrs. Patterson, or both, had an account in a Dallas bank. That has not been established as fact.

Some friends of the Pattersons gave information today that Mr. Patterson was known to have carried on his person at certain times sums of money that ranged into the thousands of dollars. Investigators have established this to be a fact in at least one recent instance.

At the same time the matter of cash funds is being sifted, the investigators are seeking to determine what was meant by heretofore undisclosed and wholly unexplained references made in a telegram supposedly sent by Mr.

Disease Work Groups Shun United Fund

Doyle Gaither, president of the Patterson from Dallas March 15. The telegram, sent to Herbert Roth, who was named in the message to serve as business manager of Patterson Photo Supply store at 113 East Main street, gave instructions on how to handle certain business matters, requested that everything be kept "quiet," and closed with, "Sure you will understand."

There has been no explanation of what that meant, if it meant anything other than a general statement.

The message also directed that "the reservation in DC" be canceled. Mr. Patterson had expressed the intention of attending a convention in Washington, D. C., and had made a hotel reservation there.

United Fund is using pressure tactics on us. They want us to join, even though we have told them we can't. They are trying to put the TB, heart, cancer and polio groups out of business nationally."

Leo Schuster Sr., president of board of directors of El Paso chapter of the American Cancer Society described his problem:

"We want to stay on friendly terms with the United Fund leaders," he said. "But we can't accept their money because of regulations of our national headquarters. I don't know what they will do with the money, but I do know that none of it will go to the American Cancer Society."

Robert Bowen, chairman of the El Paso County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis: "The polio money being collected for United Fund is not in any way connected with our March of Dimes organization. The El Paso Chapter has not joined and has no intention of joining United Fund."
