Miami Television Man Didn't Exert Pressure On Channel Support

By United Press
WASHINGTON, March 14.—A. Frank Katzentine denied today that he gave or promised Thurman A. Whiteside anything to persuade him to withdraw his support of a National Airlines subsidiary for the controversial television Channel 10 at Miami, Fla.

Whiteside, a Miami attorney, testified previously that he urged ousted Federal Communications Commissioner Richard A. Mack to back the National Airlines, but dropped the matter after Katzentine, a competing bidder for the channel, engaged in actions "tantamount to blackmail." Whiteside did not spell out Katzentine's alleged actions.

Representative John B. Bennett, Michigan Republican, said Whiteside's testimony "seems inconceivable to me. That's just something that I don't believe happened."

Katzentine, testifying before a House subcommittee investigating regulatory agencies, said Whiteside told of his decision to withdraw his support of National in a 1955 conversation.

"He said he was a fighter, and that he supposed he had a Napoleonic complex, but his family was involved and he didn't feel like going any further," Katzentine said. Asked how Whiteside's family was involved, Katzentine replied "I suppose their ownership in a dog track." He did not elaborate.

In response to repeated questions by Bennett, Katzentine denied he said or did anything for Whiteside to get him to telephone Mack and say he was no longer interested in National's case.

"I never promised Mr. Whiteside anything of any sort," Katzentine said. Representative Oren Harris, Arkansas Democrat, said FCC members would still have to explain their votes on awarding the Miami channel to National Airlines even though they are trying to reopen the case.

NEW YORK, March 14.—Lord Mayor James Carrol of Dublin arrives today on a six-week visit to the United States.

Cleanup Question

Questions on City sanitation rules will be answered in The Herald-Post each day in co-operation with the Clean Up campaign this month, sponsored by the Woman's Department of the Chamber of Commerce.

Question: Is it all right to put grass cuttings or paper in a container that has no lid even though no garbage is put in the can?

Answer: No. The ordinance says that any can used for refuse must have a water tight bottom and tight lid.

If you have a question, mail it to Roy H. Scott, chief inspector of the Sanitation Department at 211 North Lee street or call KE 2-2601, extension 43, before 3 p. m. and watch for the answer in The Herald-Post.

Broken Trees Calls Pour In

One-third of El Paso's trees were damaged in this week's snowstorm, according to Ed Muckelroy, Sanitation Superintendent, whose men are hauling away the broken limbs as best they can. Tree damage was the worst in a generation here.

Mr. Muckelroy said he is still receiving about 350 calls a day from El Pasoans who want broken tree branches hauled away.

At that the situation has calmed down some, he said. For two days after the storm he had three crews of men patrolling the streets to remove fallen limbs from streets. One crew, equipped with a wood chipping machine, is still on patrol. The Park Department dealt not in branches but in entire trees and removed 27 of them from City streets, according to Park Superintendent Bryce Lammert.

It will be some time before the Sanitation Department gets caught up with demand to haul branches, Mr. Muckelroy said, but he expects garbage collection to be back on schedule by tomorrow evening. Garbage collection crews were assigned to other duties the day following the heavy snow because the heavy Sanitation Department trucks could not safely get into alleys.

Singer Gets Quickie Divorce; No Love Plans

Singer Jaye P. Morgan obtained a "quickie" divorce in Juarez today, pausing in El Paso only long enough to tell a Herald-Post reporter she had no plans for another marriage.

"I just want to get out of this one first," she said.

Miss Morgan arrived in El Paso by plane at 2 a. m. today. She obtained her divorce from actor Mike Baiano and left at noon for Hollywood.

Juarez Attorney Aureliano Vargas handled her divorce.

The couple was married April 14, 1954 at Baiano's Beverly Hills home. They separated Aug. 21, 1956.

"At the time of the separation I planned to get a divorce," she said.

The petite singer plans a TV appearance with Pat Boone March 27.

Recently she has been appearing in night clubs with her four brothers who are singers and musicians.

Baiano is the son of Solly Baiano, talent chief at Warner Brothers studio.

Indonesian Says Rebels Got U. S. Arms

Australia Denies One of Its Planes Delivered Guns

By United Press
SINGAPORE, March 14.—Indonesian Premier Djuanda charged formally today that "American-made" arms were airdropped to rebels in Pakanbaru just before loyal paratroops attacked the Central Indonesian town Wednesday.

Djuanda told Indonesian newsmen in Jakarta he could not confirm local press reports that the plane which dropped bazookas, machine guns and small arms to the insurgents bore Australian air force markings.

Australian officials in Jakarta said the report is "completely untrue."

There was no indication as to the source of the arms. Officials in Jakarta refused to say whether Indonesia intends to protest to the United States.

Previously Jakarta statements had announced the capture of Pakanbaru.

Indonesian army headquarters said today loyal troops also are in control of Dumai, terminal on Sumatra's east coast for the Caltex Pacific Oil Co.

The army announcement said Dumai was seized Wednesday, at about the same time that Pakanbaru fell to the attackers.

Radio Moscow hailed the Jakarta government today for its "resolute action" against the rebels, saying that its resistance was a blow to "reactionary circles in the West."

N. M. Race Track Plans Run Along

Plans to build a race track in Juarez will have no effect on impending construction of a race track in New Mexico, just west of El Paso, officials of Fortuna Corp. of Albuquerque said today.

A $1.5 million horse and dog track will be constructed near the Juarez airport by California interests, Attorney Javier Alvarez of Juarez announced. It would be called the Camino Real track.

In Alvarez' office in Juarez this morning, two dapper young Californians introduced themselves as co-operators of the proposed Juarez horse-dog track.

No Syndicate, They Say
They are James E. Lofland and Thomas W. Lefner, both of Beverly Hills. Lofland said he heads the Lofland Oil Co. Lefner said he is an attorney.

Both denied that the Juarez race track was in any way being subsidized by "syndicate" gambling interests from "Las Vegas, New York or any place else."

They insisted that their lease from the Mexican government covered only pari-mutuel betting at the track and bookmaking on other tracks; and that this was not to be expanded into any other form of gambling device.

They said their race results information from tracks in the United States would come via teletype news service. (Racing wires are illegal in the U. S.)

Due in December
Results will be available within "a matter of hours," Lofland said.

Present plans call for the Juarez plant to be operating by next December, accommodating more than 5,000 persons in the grandstand. A swank clubhouse for memberships will be built, the operators said.

Attorney Alvarez said that the land-permit holding company, Public Speculators, had plans for construction of a large resort hotel and motel adjoining the plant site.

A 10-year concession permits the Americans to operate pari-mutuel and booking concessions, which would mean wide open gambling.

The booking concessions stirred speculation as to whether the operation will be primarily for that purpose. A booking concession would permit El Pasoans and Juarez residents to gamble all the year 'round on races held in the U. S. and elsewhere.

Fortuna Corp. officials in New Mexico say they are awaiting approval by the Securities Exchange Commission on a stock selling plan before starting construction of their own $1.5 million Gateway Park in the Upper Valley.

Mystery Circles Wash Job After Pair Disappeared

Court Hearing Opens in Attempt to Learn What Happened to Missing El Paso Couple

Who took Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Patterson's Cadillac to a garage to be cleaned and repaired the morning after the couple disappeared from El Paso?

Testimony by two witnesses today in 34th District Court presented a mystery.

The witnesses were Cecil Ward, owner of the Ward Motor Clinic at 2600 Wyoming street, who started an investigation into the couple's disappearance on March 5, 1957, and W. A. Cowan, State Department of Public Safety investigator.

They were among numerous witnesses who testified that after prolonged search they do not have the faintest idea where the couple is or what happened to them.

Ward, long-time friend and fishing companion of the Pattersons, said the couple's 1956 Cadillac was at the Ward garage at 8 a. m. March 6, the day following their disappearance.

Gives His Opinion
"My opinion for a time was that D. G. Kirkland drove the Cadillac there," Ward testified at the opening session of a receivership hearing. Attorneys for the Patterson Photo Supplies are seeking to have the present receivership continued.

"Mr. Kirkland was there at my place about 8 a. m. But now I can't remember how the car got there. I can't remember seeing anyone drive it in."

Kirkland, operator of Duffy's Photo Service, a Lubbock resident, was named "manager" of Patterson's business in a telegram sent from Dallas on March 15, 1957. It was addressed to Herbert Roth, accountant and present temporary receiver for the Patterson photo store. It was signed Pat.

Carried Her Away
Ward said Kirkland gave instructions on what to do with the Cadillac. These instructions were the same, Ward said, as he had received previously from Patterson, who had asked that minor repairs be made and the car cleaned and washed.

Questioned by E. B. Elfers, attorney for the receivership, Ward said Patterson had given no indication he was to leave town.

On the morning of March 6, Ward said, Kirkland "told me that Patterson was carrying Mrs. Patterson away to help her recover from a situation she was in."

Ward said he does not think Kirkland made a statement about having seen the Pattersons at their home. He said he had seen Kirkland with the Pattersons on previous occasions, but that Kirkland never before had come to the garage to see about the Pattersons' car.

Worked on Boat
"Patterson and I had discussed what should be done to the car," Ward said. "I knew, anyway, from past experience, to do whatever was necessary. Usually Pat would phone me. He would come by and let me drive him to the airport and I would bring the Cadillac back to my garage."

This time, Ward said, Patterson had not phoned about the car.

Ward said he spent some time with Patterson the afternoon of March 5, leaving him at 4 p. m. At 6:30 p. m. that day, Ward said, he telephoned and talked with both Mr. and Mrs. Patterson. He said he had helped work on Patterson's boat on March 4, and telephoned him March 5 that he could not appear to work on it that night.

Estefana Morfin Juarez Night Life Girl

Ward testified that some of his employees thought the Cadillac was driven in early the next morning by Kirkland. Others thought they saw Art Moreno, Patterson employee, drive the car, while other employees didn't know, Ward said.

He said he got worried about the Pattersons in a couple of months and in August asked Accountant Roth about a generating plan for a trailer that he wanted to store in Patterson's basement.

He Was Surprised
"Roth said no, he had rented the house," Ward said. "That took the wind out of my sails. He said Roth then suggested the generator be sold."

"After further discussion I decided to go to the sheriff," Ward said. Agent Cowan said he took a statement from one of Ward's mechanics. "The mechanic said he saw the Cadillac brought to the garage," Cowan said. "But he didn't know who drove it."

Agent Cowan said he has talked with Kirkland. "I have not located the person who drove the car," Cowan testified.

Cowan said he talked with a girl friend of Patterson whom he identified as Estefana Arroyo Morfin, Juarez night life girl.

"She told me she had received a letter from Mr. Patterson," Cowan said. "She did not show me the letter. She believed it to be in April of 1957."

Asked whether the woman claimed to have the letter Cowan said, "No."

Life Not Pleasant
Art Moreno, the Patterson employee who was mentioned in the Dallas telegram as heir apparent to part of the business, told of a conversation he had with Patterson five or six months before the couple vanished March 5.

Moreno quoted Patterson as saying he wanted to "get away for (Continued on Page 6, Col. 3)

Tokyo Mystery

Army Sergeant's Body Found Floating in Bay

By Associated Press
TOKYO, March 14.—Japanese newspapers today began weaving a cloak and dagger mystery around the body of a U. S. master sergeant found floating in Tokyo Bay.

The police identified the dead man as Emmet E. Dugan but the Army withheld confirmation until relatives were notified. A spokesman said the man had been missing from his Army intelligence unit since Feb. 4.

Press reports said Dugan spoke fluent Chinese and had been assigned to collect information on Red China. He was frequently seen with Chinese friends, the newspapers said.

The Army said it "has no definite knowledge that he was engaged in any investigative activity at the time of death. He could have been a victim of robbery, among other things."

The man's wallet was missing. The body found Wednesday was dressed in civilian clothes. The jacket had a California label.

"The preliminary autopsy indicated he was dead before he hit the water," the Army said, adding there was a bruise on the forehead. The body, which apparently had been in the water about two

Wants to Increase Fines for Drunks

By United Press
LONDON, March 14.—British Home Secretary R. A. Butler is considering a boost in fines for drunks to bring the payments into line with present-day values of money.

Under existing legislation, the highest fine that can be imposed for drunkenness in England is 10 shillings $1.40 and for drunken and disorderly behavior, two pounds $5.60.
