

Traffic Violation Trips Rapist Wanted in Texas

By United Press
EDINBURG, March 14.—A 51-year-old New Orleans used car salesman headed back to the Texas state prison at Huntsville today to finish a 33-year-old sentence for rape—all because he violated a traffic law at Lyford, Texas.

The used car salesman is William Porter Hutto, who was arrested for failing to yield the right-of-way in crossing the Lyford main street Tuesday.

He came to Texas to visit his daughter, Mrs. Guy Batchler, and to see his 5-week-old grandson for the first time.

Hutto was originally sentenced May 20, 1924 to 5 to 15 years for rape in Dallas county.

Hutto did not have a driver's license when he was arrested Tuesday by State Highway Patrolman R. C. Dumas. On a "hunch," Dumas ran a routine check to see if he was wanted by authorities.

He learned that Hutto was wanted for disappearing from the Texas state prison after going on furlough on Aug. 5, 1925. He was declared a fugitive the following October 4th when he failed to return.

Hutto, puffing nervously on a cigarette in the Hidalgo County jail Thursday night, explained why he did not return. He said he was given a furlough—he was 17 at the time—to visit his dying father. Then later, he said he "thought" he received a pardon from Governor Miram A. (Ma) Ferguson.

Dumas arrested Hutto at his daughter's home. Hutto said none of his family knew of his past. He was divorced seven years ago, and has a 17-year-old son in New Orleans, in addition to his 22-year-old daughter.

He said it had never occurred to him that he was wanted. He said he had been back to Texas 10 or 12 times and that his name had been in neon lights over his used car lots on both Canal and Broad streets in New Orleans for 25 years.

a year and come back and have the business."

On cross examination by Harold S. Long, court-appointed attorney for the missing couple, Moreno said Patterson's personal life "was not pleasant." He said he believed Patterson wanted to get away because of unpleasantness with his wife.

Other witnesses this morning included D. J. Smith, attorney for Patterson before the disappearance; Accountant Roth; Sheriff W. O. Hicks and Capt. Frank Manning of the Sheriff's Department; and Marshall Hall, Herald-Post reporter. Other witnesses called included John Frizzell, former deputy sheriff, and Bill Cook, Times reporter.

L. A. Shugart of Levelland, friend of Patterson who sold him a trailer, was at the hearing this morning.

Attorney Smith said Patterson told him about three years ago he would like to "knock around" Mexico for a year or so, and discussed incorporating the business, which was not done.

Smith said he first learned of the disappearance on April 4 when Roth, Kirkland, and Duffy Sasser and an unidentified person brought him the telegram sent to Roth from Dallas and signed "Pat."

Never Questioned
"I have never questioned the genuineness of the telegram," Smith said.

Smith said he thought the Pattersons would return in a few weeks. About May, he said, "I thought I'd better start investigating." He told of querying friends and associates in widely different parts of the country.

In Miami, Fla., Smith related, he

Freedom Bid Lost By Texas Bad Man

By United Press
BATON ROUGE, La., March 14.—Texas badman Charlie Frazier, whose blazing guns killed at least two peace officers in his 1930's, has been turned down in his latest bid for freedom.

Lieut. Gov. Lethor Frazier, who also is chairman of the State Pardon Board, said Frazier's application for executive clemency was rejected by the board in a three-day meeting.

Governor Earl Long favored letting the 68-year-old convict live his remaining days a free man. He told a recent news conference he thought Frazier "had been punished enough" and is "too old to get in any more trouble."

Frazier can apply for a pardon again after six months. He had made several previous applications for pardon on two life sentences he is serving in Louisiana.

Frazier got in the news in 1933 when he was identified as the leader of the bloody 12-man prison break at Angola, La. Two guards and a convict were killed and another guard was fatally wounded.
