Disease Work Groups Shun United Fund

Use of Money Collected for Four Units Not Clear

The United Fund today reported a total of $218,309. This is 23 per cent of the entire goal.

Money collected for four groups in the United Fund drive will be given to national or local organizations doing similar work if the El Paso groups refuse the money, J. Francis Morgan, drive chairman, said today.

The groups which have refused to be in United Fund are El Paso Chapter of the American Heart Assn., El Paso County Tuberculosis Assn., El Paso County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and the El Paso Chapter of the American Cancer Society.

Use Name of Cause The United Fund lists "heart, polio, cancer and TB" groups.

"We use the name of the cause rather than a particular institution," Mr. Morgan explained. "If we used the exact name of an El Paso group, then we become liable and could be sued if that organization could not accept the money."

"We are not telling the organizations that they must take the money. We say we have it for them. If they will not take it, then the money will go to some worthwhile organization which is doing similar work."

Mr. Morgan declined to name alternate organizations as examples because he said that will be up to the fund's board of directors. "It may be a local group or it may be a national organization," he said.

They Are Not Happy Approximately $100,000 has been set up to cover the four groups.

"The quotas set were based on last year's collections," Mr. Morgan said.

"When the drive is over, we'll have money for polio, for instance," he said. "If the El Paso chapter can't accept it, then it will be given to some other recognized polio organization which will use it for polio work."

Leaders of the four organizations were not happy about the plan.

"The United Fund is misinforming the public in saying that gifts will be made to the 'heart fund,'" (Continued on Page 12, Col. 7)

El Pasoans See Mysterious Light

"Mystery lights," which have appeared throughout the country, made their debut in the immediate area of El Paso last night.

Yesterday, Marfa area residents reported seeing a "mystery light," which disappeared traveling in the direction of El Paso.

W. J. Carson of 3526 Lebanon street reported he saw a strange object about 8 o'clock.

Saw Bright Light "I had gone out to empty the garbage when I saw a brilliant flash and looked up."

"It looked like a star except it flashed red, green and white; the red a very bright red."

He said he watched it for about 20 minutes before it disappeared.

"I called a neighbor and told him about it," Mr. Carson said. "Later on that night about 10 o'clock I saw it for a second time. There was a brilliant flash of light again and then I saw it rising up from behind Mt. Franklin. It appeared for another 20 minutes."

Mr. Carson is associated with Brown-Olds Co.

Many Colors Another report came from Sally Sommers, senior at Austin High, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sommers of 3601 Aurora street.

"My parents and I were watching it," Sally said. "From what we could tell it was flashing red, green and white. Looking at it through binoculars, it seemed like there was an area in the middle that was half red and half white. This area was surrounded by green and each color was flashing separately."

"It was moving fast. It made its arc and then dropped out of sight."

"We live on the east side of Mt. Franklin and when we first saw it around 8 p. m. it's position looked like it was above and a little on the other side of the mountain."

What this country needs is an automotive device to make the brakes get tight when the driver does.

x-These agencies will not require funds in 1958 because of reserves on hand.

xx-These agencies not in Community Chest last year.

xxx-No United Funds provided for these agencies.

Although the Community Chest was budgeted last year for $417,452, the campaign fell short of the goal, and actual distribution was $353,783, the various agencies being reduced accordingly.

Youth Services Get Biggest Share of Fund

Youth service agencies have the largest share in the United Fund's $865,549 budget, a breakdown of allocations to agencies showed today.

The United Fund budget, based on the campaign goal, is more than double the goal of the old Community Chest last year.

The Chest goal was $417,452.

The United Fund budget allocates $277,300 for youth services, $139,900 for health services, $137,268 to two national agencies, $75,500 to family services, and $71,659 to child care.

The rest goes for a survey, campaign expense, administrative costs, and reserves.

The United Fund budget lists 28 agencies that will share in the amount raised. It also budgets four "causes"—heart, polio, cancer, and tuberculosis—and allocates them $98,500.

The organizations which have raised money for these causes in the past have refused to join the United Fund.

The United Fund budget allocates $20,000 for a survey. Officials said a survey is needed to determine whether agencies are duplicating one another, and whether any need reorganization.

The campaign expense of $30,000 compares with $16,000 for the Chest last year.

Administration and auditing are budgeted for $43,000. Last year's comparable figure was $26,750.

The reserve for the United Fund is allotted $71,522, compared with $15,000 for the Chest last year. Officials said the United Fund reserve includes provisions for a larger shrinkage expected in collections, due to a greatly expanded payroll deduction plan. Many employees who contribute probably will quit, move away, or change jobs, making the percentage of collections less, it was believed.

Also, administrative costs in handling a larger budget and additional agencies will be higher, officials said.

Ike Pressed For Honesty On Missiles

Congressmen Urge Him to Speak In Truth to Nation

By United Press WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Congressmen of both parties urged today that President Eisenhower tell the nation frankly in his radio-television address tonight where the United States stands in the missile race with Russia.

Senator Hubert H. Humphrey, Minnesota Democrat, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said "much more is needed" than a "generalized pep talk by the President." He urged Eisenhower to summon a special session of Congress.

"Tell Us Squarely" Senator John Kennedy, Massachusetts Democrat, another member of the Foreign Relations Committee, demanded that Eisenhower "tell us squarely where we stand" and withhold the "pious beatitudes of faith and hope."

The President is expected to give as frank an appraisal as possible, within the bounds of security, of this country's current missile progress and to call for new programs to increase scientific and engineering manpower.

What's the Score? But it was not known whether he would announce any dramatic new scientific achievement to take away some of the propaganda edge gained by Russia with its two Sputniks.

Representative Walter Rogers, Texas Democrat, said the President should "let us know what the score is... if we have slipped behind the Russians, the sooner we know it, the better."

Peeping Tom Fined, Warned

Peeping Tom Albert L. Lawrence, 30, of 812 Brazil street, was fined and warned yesterday.

The fine was $200, the maximum. The warning was "You are going to get killed."

The peeper decided he needs a psychiatrist.

Lawrence, a bakery manager, pleaded guilty before Police Court Judge Glenn E. Woodard.

First witness against Lawrence was Ken Heineman of 1209 Fairfield drive, one of Texas Western's most famous football players.

Heineman told of observing Lawrence as he loitered along the street, looking into first one house and another.

"I was wearing pajamas, house robe and house slippers when I saw him, and he finally turned off the sidewalk and went toward the rear of Dr. McKinley's house," Heineman said, referring to the house of Dr. Dean C. McKinley at 1207 Fairfield.

"I told my wife to telephone Dr. McKinley to go to the back of his house. I went out to where I saw this man looking in a window of Dr. McKinley's house and shouted, 'What are you doing?' The man jumped over the backyard fence (Continued on Page 12, Col. 3)

Mining Men Laud Racket Busters

Efforts of unions as well as senators to halt labor racketeering today won praise from mining management men gathered at the International Mining Days convention in El Paso.

A resolution presented to the New Mexico Mining Assn.'s resolutions committee commended the AFL-CIO leadership and the McClellan investigating committee "for their efforts to rid the labor movement of racketeers."

Opened Today J. K. Richardson of the Kennecott Copper Corp., at Hurley, association president, said the resolution is to be presented to the whole association. The New Mexico group is meeting with the International Mining Days' convention, which opened today and ends Saturday.

Mr. Richardson said in an interview that cost of production must be lowered if depressed segments of the mining industry survive.

Depresses Mining "The lead and zinc mining industry in New Mexico is in a particularly depressed condition due to the price structure," Mr. Richardson said.

"There is a general feeling that the present depressed price of (Continued on Page 12, Col. 1)

Russia Displays Global Missile

Reds Parade Rocket Might In Moscow

Observers Note Huge Cannon Like 'Atomic Annie'

By United Press MOSCOW, Nov. 7.—The Soviet Union today displayed for the first time a rocket officially identified as an intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM).

The Russians unveiled a wealth of secret new rocket weapons including field artillery rockets 50 to 60 feet long and weighing many tons.

The rocket weapons were highlights of a massive armed display in Red Square commemorating the 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

A Soviet commentator atop the Gum department store facing the Kremlin across Red Square gave a running commentary on the new secret weapons.

Long-Range Rockets "The Soviet Union now possesses long range rockets and field rockets," the commentator said. "The intercontinental ballistic missile has strengthened Soviet defenses."

Jet-propelled rocket weapons were followed by heavy rocket artillery drawn by tremendous caterpillar transporters.

Western observers estimated a big green-painted rocket at an even 60 feet long, about 10 feet thick with a pointed nose and fins at the end.

It appeared similar to a wartime German V-2 and observers said they believed it was an intermediate stage rocket and not Russia's ICBM.

Observers also noted a huge 200 millimeter cannon which was believed capable of firing an atomic shell similar to the U. S. Army's "Atomic Annie."

Dignitaries Attend The thousands watching in Red Square were joined by the top dignitaries of the Communist world, including Mao Tse-Tung of Communist China, Wladyslaw Gomułka of Poland and Ho Chi Minh of Communist North Viet Nam.

Defense Minister Malinovsky, a former czarist sergeant who replaced Marshal Georgi Zhukov, spoke from a terrace above the Lenin-Stalin mausoleum flanked by Soviet Communist Party Leader Nikita S. Khrushchev and other members of the Presidium.

"The Soviet forces are capable of crushing any aggressor should he attack our country," Malinovsky said.

Malinovsky reiterated the month-old charges of Western plots against Syria with "Turkey as their tool" and said the Soviets condemned this "interference of imperialists in the Mideast and sympathize with the people struggling for their independence."

Song Makes New Hit in E. P. Bing's Bride Says Her Top Tune Is 'True Love'

By JANET ARCHIBALD "My favorite Crosby song?" "I think it must be 'True Love,'" Bing's bride said as her dark eyes sparkled.

"The Old Groaner" and Mrs. Crosby, 23, paused briefly at El Paso International Airport this morning en route to Houston.

"I sing a little myself... for pleasure only," she commented. The singer shepherd Mrs. Crosby through a rapidly gathering crowd to the shelter of the airport terminal as soon as the couple arrived on the American-Continental Texas Arrow.

Somewhat aloof, Mr. Crosby kept his hands jammed into the pockets of his brown corduroy jacket against the morning chill, taking them out only to sign his name to the slips of paper shoved at him.

First autograph seeker to get the singer's name was Sally Ann Lewis, 12, of El Paso.

Mrs. Crosby, the former Kathryn Grant of Houston, was as busy signing her name as her famous husband. More gracious than Bing, she asked the name of each person who spoke to her.

Charges Attempt To Block Trial

A 16-year-old high school girl said today there have been "three or four" attempts to get her to drop a rape charge against Eduardo Robles, 21, on trial before a jury in District Judge William E. Ward's court.

The defense began shouting objections to her statement and she did not testify when or by whom the attempts were made or whether pressure had been put on her.

District Attorney William E. Clayton, in a sidebar remark during the defense objections, said some of the attempts have been of recent date.

The girl, who yesterday told her story of repeated rapings by Robles, Salvador Salcido and Amador Hoiguin after they had forced her into their car and drove out on the desert on the night of Aug. 28, frankly admitted that some of her testimony at a habeas corpus hearing two weeks ago was "false."

At the habeas corpus hearing she was questioned at length about her associations with other boys and asked if she had not had intimate relations with one of them on March 8. She denied having any relations with the boy but admitted (Continued on Page 12, Col. 1)

Did Pattersons Have Much Cash?

By CLIFF SHERRILL Investigation of the baffling disappearance of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Patterson turned today to the question of whether, when they vanished last March 6, they were in possession of a large amount of cash.

Angles of the case already developed indicate they possibly were carrying a heavy supply of funds in cash.

That would have been nothing extraordinary for Mr. Patterson. He is known to have been in personal possession of thousands of dollars in currency. One of these occasions was just before he purchased the Cadillac that was left (Continued on Page 12, Col. 6)
